Guide to using the catalog:

SoffSeal's catalog is divided into sections by Make and Model. Listed first in alphabetical order are the GM sections, then Performance Chrysler, followed by Ford, Street Rod and Universal. Each section is divided by Make, and for larger lines, Make and Model. The products are grouped by product type and sorted by years. So if you are looking for door weatherstrips for a 1957 Chevy Bel Air, you would start with Chevrolet section, then navigate to the Bel Air section. Lastly, you would look for product code "D" for door related items, then find your year.

TYPICAL WEATHERSTRIP INSTALLATION TIPS

Installing door weatherstripping is a crucial step in weatherproofing your vehicle. Door weatherstripping eliminates rattles, wind noise, and prevents water damage.

- Remove the phillips screws (or black clips) that holds the old door weatherstrip in place.
- Pull out the old weatherstrips and remove nylon pins.
- Using firm thumb pressure, the molded end snaps right into place.
- The tool attached white nylon pins will line up perfectly and hold tight.
- Apply a very small bead of adhesive between pin holes.

Note: Look for CODE "D" when browsing the catalog for Door related weatherstripping.

Roofrail, Pillar post and Convertible weatherstripping is easily installed along the roofline of your car. Installing roofrail weatherstripping will eliminate wind noise and prevent water damage.

- Pop out the old black plastic anchor plugs with a screwdriver or needle-nose pliers.
- Pull out the old weatherstripping and clean the channel. The molded end snaps into place with firm thumb pressure.
- After you have applied a thin bead of glue, the rest of the weatherstrip will snap into place quickly and easily. Push 1 1/2-2" of excess length inside roof and quarter panel.

Note: Look for CODE "R" when browsing the catalog for Roofline related weatherstripping.

Often overlooked items are window related. Quarter Window weatherstripping seals out the elements, eliminates rattles, and wind noise.

- Remove the phillips screw that holds the old weatherstrip or U-shape rubber jamb in place.
- Using pliers, slide the old weatherstripping out.
- Apply soap or light oil to ease sliding, and clean out channel.
- Slide the new weatherstripping up into place in the channel.
- Replace the quarter window U-jamb.

Note: Look for CODE "W" when browsing the catalog for Window related weatherstripping.

Trunk weatherstrips and related items eliminate rattles, prevents water damage, and give your car a factory fresh look.

- Use a release agent, then a scraper to remove old trunk weatherstrip and glue residue. We recommend doing this before painting your car.
- After trunk groove is cleaned (and painted, if applicable), run a very small bead of weatherstrip adhesive in the groove.
- Take note of the shape of the cutaway edge of the weatherstrip illustrated. Be sure you lay in the strip correctly, according to the drawing.
- Snap the new weatherstrip into place.

Note: Look for CODE "T" when browsing the catalog for Trunk related weatherstripping.
